With the rapid growth of the Indian economy and global business footprint, integration of management sciences, economics and commerce with legal education becomes a necessity to ensure qualified and skilled graduates to cater to diverse opportunities in the legal profession. A law graduate is faced with a variety of career options. Judicial Services is well known and the traditional career path. A flourishing legal industry is growing in lockstep with India's economic growth creating extraordinary opportunities for lawyers and law firms. National and Multinational Corporations offer diverse career opportunities in legal services and departments, covering areas like International Trade and Commerce, Intellectual Property Rights, Global Mobility and International Laws. The emergence of LPO (Legal Process Outsourcing) opens up career opportunities in several specialized legal services, particularly in Legal Research.

ABOUT THE PRO BONO CLUB

Embarking on “last mile delivery” vision under Digital India, Department of Justice (DoJ) has been devising and integrating many approaches to bring about systemic reforms under justice sector and to establish a pan India framework for dispensation of pro bono legal services across the country. Acknowledging this, in April, 2017, DoJ launched Nyaya Bandhu (Pro Bono Legal Services) Programme to undertake a digital drive to connect practicing advocates interested in pro bono work with eligible marginalized and vulnerable beneficiaries via mobile technology, after due scrutiny. Therefore, to cater to the law students and to instill in their young minds a responsibility to the community, so that many could continue to offer pro bono services even after completion of graduation, in June 2020, sub module on Pro Bono Club Scheme (PB Club) was designed with an aim to strengthen the existing pro bono programme, by integrating law schools and students within its fold. Three mandatory criteria were outlined the release of grant to the law schools, who acquiesced to be part of the PB Club. Firstly, registration of law schools on the online dashboard created for the purpose, Secondly submission of proposal with an activity plan and budget breakup and satisfactory acceptance by DoJ of the proposal. The Pro Bono Club of Presidency University Bangalore aims to improve efficiency and quality of pro bono legal services by providing assistance to pro bono advocates through law students and to instill in young legal minds their responsibility to community by understanding and practicing pro bono legal services for the unassisted and disadvantaged persons in the societies. The student committee, under the guidance of the Faculty-in-charge would manage the administrative and financial functions of the club
