4th GNLU Workshop on Economic Analysis of Crime and Constitutional Law

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP:

Economics lets one examine the choices made, given the various constraints they have. As the constraints change, behavior changes as well. Be it Legislature, Executive or Judiciary, any decision making body as well gives considerable attention towards impact analysis through economic tools. It becomes pertinent to read Law and Economics, wherein economic tools are used to better understand the law and to find its efficiency and working. It permits the greater use of economics to examine the law in addition to recognizing the importance of law to an analysis of the economy. Keeping the objective in mind, the workshop will aim at providing an insight to learners regarding application of economic approach in legal arena by touching upon key areas of law i.e., Constitutional law and Criminal Law.
